

Life Tributes

What are three benefits of organizing and holding life tributes when staff or students die?

How does it help school climate?

Why might administrators be reluctant to hold an all-school event?

What can we say that may help them more positively consider allowing students to hold a life tribute?

If an administration is not willing to allow whole school events, what options might work that would positively support students?

What are some suggestions you might have about how to include the family without allowing them to speak at the event?

What are your greatest concerns?

How might you address those?